PREFACE

First off, on behalf of my family I like to thank you for downloading the Atomic Blogging preview guide which has been used by thousands of bloggers around the world making it one of the best blogging guide and system there is on the internet today.

In case you have yet to know me yet, my name is Alvin Phang aged 27 this year. I started my first blog at www.GatherSuccess.com in October 2006 and since then have been really successful online.

Bloggging then was pretty new to me and all I knew was just to write. Seriously, when I first started writing, I really hated it but as I realized I began to write more and more on my blog. I was getting more and more visitors everyday to my blog.

What was once just a hobby became a real full time business of bloggging. From a total nobody online, I was now getting well over 40,000 visits on my blog on monthly basis. With so much traffic on the blog it was only natural I also managed to earn lots of money from my own blog.

Which to date I have generated more then $222,579.00 transactions online and growing. In time to come my goal is to be a millionaire by the end of year 2009! I am already almost 25% there and I believe it is possible once you set your mind to it.

During my journey in my blogging, I realized I was getting tons of traffic and through all those experiences, I found a secret formula to my success and even got published on local papers!

That's How Atomic Blogging Was Born

Unlike most blogging guides out there, there weren't any real life examples or social proof that really got me frustrated. So I decided: Why not I start to write a book about blogging and it will not just simply be any run-of-the-mill blog guide book.

I wanted more from this book; I wanted it to be the BEST blogging guide book you can ever find online in the world. To ensure it has every element a person would need to blog, I decided to write this guide in a tutorial format which is easy to learn for anyone, with or without any IT knowledge.

With the added advantage as a graduate from Diploma in Info-Communication from Temasek Polytechnic and having worked in many IT-related companies like Forbes & AVAYA, I am able to explain to you in these book lots of details that you can never find in any other guide books.

Come and discover my secret formula to my success which is now called "Atomic Blogging".

In order for you to get the most out of this e-book I would like to lay some groundwork, to make sure that you do not get confused by any of the information. So, first let me explain what affiliate programs, Adsense and blogs are.

An affiliate program is simply a website where the owner puts up his product for sale and if you like to sell his product, you can sign up to be his affiliate. Whenever you make a sale, the owner will pay you a commission generated from the traffic you send them. A very popular website you can find for affiliate products would be www.ClickBank.com , where you can find virtually all sorts of digital products to sell.

Adsense is an advertising program owned by Google. When you sign up for a free account, you will be given a set of codes to place on your website and the ads displayed will be relevant to the contents on your webpage. When your visitors click on these ads, Google will actually pay you some cash for these clicks! How about that?

Blogs are online journals or web logs, in short. This is where you can post news, videos, articles or hobbies, like sports, fashion, games, etc. So, instead of just 'squatting' on the internet, why not use your blog to make some money for you. Cool, isn't it?

Why The Preview Chapter?

Atomic Blogging as you know went live on June 19th 2007. It took the blogosphere by storm ranked as the No.2 on the niche blogging in Clickbank in just 5 days!

We had hundreds of people download and purchasing Atomic Blogging as it was selling as a ridiculously low price! We sold hundreds of copies in the first few hours!

Many people have gone on to use the materials that I have taken 6 months to develop this completed proven blogging system!

Atomic Blogging is much more than just a book, it's a compilation of all my success stories and experience in blogging. What I share in there are real practical stuff with real results no fluff!

This is a preview chapter of Atomic Blogging. It is to give you a test how powerful the guide is. The full guide can be seen at

But then again, you may wonder. Why would I give away this part of the guide for free for?

Well for many great reasons and one of them is I believe when you have someone attention you got to give them your BEST! They will come to realize... "If I get this much information from this person in just a few pages, what impact will it have when I get 100% of their information in one simple guide"

Ready? Read on.. to explore the power of Atomic Blogging....

8 DEADLY MISTAKES TO AVOID & WHAT TO DO INSTEAD!

In this chapter you will learn how you can quickly apply these 8 powerful tips on blogging to start generating more revenue and traffic for your blogs.

The aim of creating a blog is to capture people's attention, to allow them to know what you are good at and share it with your audience. And in turn, this will allow you to capture their personal particulars (leads) to generate more revenue for you!

8 Powerful Tips On Blogging

Tip #1 - Do A Survey On What Your Readers Like To Read About

It is always very important to know what your customers or readers like to know more about. You can find out easily by just asking your audience. An example I did was at this post

<http://www.gathersuccess.com/announcements/worlds-first-paid-per-comment> where I posed the question of asking them what the top 3 problems that people face online are.

With that information, you can gather the information and create a product or service around it or write content on what your readers love to read about. In that way, your readers will love to find out more about what you want to write about and help to solve their problems.

Tip #2 - Open Your Creative Mindset

There is no right or wrong in blogging. However, what you need to do after you find out what your readers want is to start to think of ideas or articles you can write to cater to their needs. Do not worry if you feel the information is really simple because trust me, there are still hundreds of people online who will not know what you know.

Keep your articles short, sweet and straight to the point. But, remember always be honest and speak from your heart as readers will be able to tell if you are trying to lie.

Tip #3 - Promote Your Blog Post

Many people who blog online always fail to do this important step and expect traffic to automatically just appear out of thin air. To be honest, you often hear this at marketing events only but the truth is you WILL NEVER get traffic if you do not promote your blog post.

So what you should do is start telling your friends about your blog post or go to forums which you will learn more about that in the later chapters and post your content in there.

Tip #4 – Start Collecting And Building Leads

Building a strong readership on a blog is important but what is more important is to collect leads from your blog too. Leads are basically information people give you about themselves when they fill in a form to get a free gift from you.

The important thing to note is that without collecting people's contact details, there will be no way you can communicate with them later if you like to do so.

How much you would like to make from your blog or business will most likely be determined by the number of leads and readership you have to your blog. So start building leads today if you have not done so. You can actually get a free auto- responder account at <http://www.shoutresponse.com>

Tip #5 – Get Yourself A Set of Golden Keywords

When you are thinking of posting a post on your blog, the first thing you would need first is not the article but a bunch of golden keywords with high demand.

With those keywords, you would want to optimize your blog post title, body, meta tags and url with the right keywords in your blog post so that search engine will be able to give you better ranking on searches. You will learn more about SEO blog tagging later on in this book.

Tip #6 – Post Frequently on Your Blog

What do most successful bloggers have in common? Well, it's very simple, they post very often on their blogs. I know it would not be easy for most of you, but try to post as frequently as possible on your blogs. A suggestion if possible, is to post once a day, or at least once every 3 days.

There are two reasons for this: to keep search engine updated that there are regular fresh contents in your blog, and hence, more for your readers to read.

Tip #7 – Fill Up Your Categories with Keywords

To ensure you get the maximum exposure on search engines, you want to ensure your categories in your blog are optimized with the right sets of keywords.

Need More Tips & Start Making Money From Your Blogs?

Tip #8 – Always Moderate Your Post And Enable Spam Filter

To ensure top quality information and readers on your blog, you must always remember to moderate your comments on your blog and enable the built- in spam filter to , as the name suggests, filter off spam.

A popular plug-in used to filter spam is Akismet, which you will learn later in the chapter how to implement Akismet.

8 Things to Avoid When Blogging

That is so much about what you should do when you are blogging. In this section, you will learn what to avoid when you blog online.

Tip #1 – Never Post Without First Proof Reading

You may say, “I was really gifted with great English”, but the least you can do after spending time to create post is to spend a little more time to check the grammar and spelling of your post content.

A quick way is to use the Firefox browser to type your content as they have a built- in spell checker. You can also copy your content to Microsoft Words to check for grammatical error.

Tip #2 – Do Not Write If You Do Not Have Ideas What To Write

When posting, have a minimum word length about 250 words or more. And do not post on your blog for the sake of posting. You must remember that people spend their precious time reading your post so your job is to ensure you give them valuable information so that they would come back for more.

A quick way to get more content for your blog would be to go to Google Videos and grab a 40-minute video clip on your topic. By doing so, you do not have to write at all, you just have to put a video on your blog.

Tip #3 – Do not Copy Content From Others

When posting content on your blog, please avoid using duplicate content or copyright content from others. You would be in for trouble when they find out you steals content from them.

However, what you can do is you can take ideas from others and paraphrase them. You will be amazed that most top seller books you see today at bookshops have similar content.

Tip #4 – Do Not Post Offensive Post

Never post any form of writing that would offend anyone online. This is especially so if it is someone you know and dislike, online or offline. It is never civil to show your readers an offensive habit.

Need More Tips & Start Making Money From Your Blogs?

© 2007 - 2009 Alvin Phang, AtomicBlogging.com All rights reserved.

Tip #5 – Never Put Direct Referral On External Hyperlinks On The Same Window

More often than not, when people read your blog post, they will find hyperlinks on your post. You should never allow these links to external sites that are not yours to appear in your blog..

A Bad Example (Opens Links on Same Browser)

< a href="http://www.gathersuccess.com">Gather Success
```

A Good Example (Opens Link on New Browser)

```
< a href="http://www.gathersuccess.com" target="_blank">Gather
Success

Tip #6 – Do Not Hard Sell In Your Blog Post

I see this happening many times on many blogs of others who try too hard to sell something on their blogs. They kept explaining why a product X should be bought and insisted it's the best product out there.

Instead of doing hard selling on your blog, what you should do is to persuade. A soft- sell approach will be more effective and also gives your readers some solid content so that they can benefit from reading your blog

Tip #7 – Do Not Go Off Topic On Your Blog

Writing in a blog can sometimes lead you into talking about almost anything that comes to your mind. It's very important, that whatever content which comes out of your blog has to always be relevant to the topics on your blog.

You do not want to read a stock trading blog talking about cooking, do you?

Tip #8 – Credibility Is Key In Blogging

Never lie to your readers especially when you are paid to write reviews, tell your readers it's a paid review.

The Power of Blogs

Blog has come a long way since it started online in 1994, when it was used to be called “weblog”. Weblog back then was just a simple diary page where people could post about their daily lives. Soon after in 1997, the term “weblog” was shortened to what we know today as blog.

Since I began blogging in 2006, there were about 55 Million blogs but as at today in 2008, there are well over 150 Million blogs online and it’s growing at an exponential rate!

Search engine loves blogs and that’s great news for many marketers out there. I guess that is the reason why blogging is picking up speed. To create a blog, you would require two things- a dedicated hosting service and a domain name.

There are many different kinds of software on the marketplace where you can easily create blog like Wordpress, Moveable Type, Blogger, Xanga or LiveJournal.

Why You Must Use Wordpress

But to create profitable blogs, you must know that there are only two popular platforms that many successful blogger use, and they are free-of-charge. They are Wordpress and Blogger.

However, do not be confused about the Wordpress as the Wordpress that I refer to here is the hosted Wordpress. They are NOT the same.

Here’s simple chart to show you the differences between a hosted Wordpress & Blogger.

- Limited Design Themes (24)
- Uses Elements
- No Plugins
- Adsense Enable
- Able To Add Videos
- CSS Style Sheet Themes
- Does not require any web host to setup
- Has a blogger ad bar
- Cost is free

Here is also another known fact, that almost all the professional bloggers that you see online uses Wordpress to host their blog.

Checklist of Things You Must Have

To ensure you are all set and ready to get yourself blogging, here are a list of check list of things you will need to start blogging.

1. Your Research Data
2. A Domain Name
3. A Webhost
4. Setup Your Wordpress Software
5. Setup Your Wordpress Themes
6. Setup Your Wordpress Plugins
7. Blogging Content
8. Products You Have Chosen To Sell
9. Setup Your Wordpress Auto Responder

Do take note, it may sound like lots of things to do, but trust me all professional bloggers has all the above stated. So the things that are listed above are a MUST DO things.

If you are plain lazy, you can always outsource the above things to do from outsourcing sites.

Power of Atomic Blogging

Now that you have a better picture about what blogging is about, let's go into talking more about Atomic Blogging.

What I am about to show you is a process which I learnt through the hard knocks of countless attempts to explore, experiment and testing with blogging. And now it's your chance to set up your blog easily almost instantly, without going through the trials and tribulations I had gone through! No more frustrations!

Like many people, I also started with Blogger. It was only later that I came across a much better software called Wordpress. Of the many reasons why I made the switch, the main reason was that Wordpress gave me the ability to add plug-ins on to my blog.

Ironically, not many people fully utilize the plug-ins and templates provided in Wordpress. Unlike them, I had come from a very technical background and I often like to explore around technology.

During my exploration, I found a secret formula, which not only help me work smarter, but more importantly to get traffic. All with just a push of the button, and that was how Atomic Blogging was born.

I did a beta test on one of my blogs with Atomic Blogging and found out that my blog ranked in Google #3 within 1 week and mind you, the keyword count was not low and neither was the competition. Till today, my blog still has traffic coming in while running on autopilot, which means Atomic Blogging REALLY works!

How Can Atomic Blogging Help Your Online Business?

Based on much testing and tweaking of my own blog, I have discovered that there are many websites offering free traffic.

And by just submitting your blogs to these web 2.0 sites, it helps you generate massive amounts of traffic to website easily.

Just to let you know how big web 2.0 is, you can check out this website at <http://www.go2web20.net/>

There are virtually hundreds of these web 2.0 sites indexed on this directory. All you have to do is to submit your content to any of these sites, which have a massive amount of 10,000 to even 100,000 or more viewers per day.

Getting your web presence online is vital. Web 2.0 allows you to do that much faster than before, with YouTube now being the most popular choice for many.

With the tools which I use, you can use to broadcast videos to multiple Video sites titled.

Case Study

I gave one of my students a tiny fraction of the resources I have in Atomic Blogging to launch a brand new site and start generating traffic from exactly ZERO visits and no search rankings.

He was stunted when he got visitors coming to his website in just hours after using it and ranked in top 10 in Google for some great keywords without the quotes

The 5 Step Blogging Traffic Blueprint

1. Write or Buy a unique article you have written for your blog (So, do you buy or do you write? If is bought, how can it be unique?)and post it on your blog.
2. Post the same article onto 5 article directories:
 - www.ezinearticles.com
 - www.goarticles.com
 - www.ideamarketers.com
 - www.articledashboard.com
 - www.searchwarp.com
3. Submit article to Socialmatic, Digg, Reddit & Stumbleupon
4. Broadcast your article to RSS directories
5. Broadcast your article to mailing list

So this is what you should be doing every time when you post a post on your blog. It sure seems a lot of work to me, being a lazy person as I am. However, with the tools from Atomic Blogging, I was able to do most of the task with AUTOMATION!

That has saved me lots of time and effort. I came from a programming and IT background with nearly 3 years of working experience. Using what I knew, I was able to do these tasks faster and more effectively daily.
